Stuck On a Wheel

By Anthony Mania and Joseph Choi

"Ahhhhhhh"! Max and Robert screamed. They were riding the new, awesome, and fast roller coaster. The Supreme Death Crasher!

"Rob, this is so too fast", Max said. "I think I'm going to puke".

"Max I really don't care because this is so awesome"! Said Robert.

Robert and Max were best friends, they did everything together.

"Max said after the ride, "You know I want to ride the Ferris wheel now".

"Robert said, fine but a roller coaster would be better".

Robert and Max agreed to ride the Ferris wheel together. When they got in the cart Max was relaxed because it was slow and relaxing but, Robert was bored to death.

As they got to the top of the Ferris wheel, the speed was an average speed, but then it got slower and slower until the boys reached the center top of the Ferris wheel.

"Hey why did the Ferris wheel stop"? Said Robert in a concerned voice, Robert seemed really scared and when he looked at Max, he had the same face.

Max and Robert looked down, and saw the employees with a microphone. "I'm sorry folks it looks like we have some technical difficulties; you folks might be stuck up there for a minimum of two hours. "2 hours"! Max and Robert looked at each other in a surprised way.

Everybody was screaming at the employees to hurry up and fix the Ferris wheel. Max and Robert joined in and kept yelling at them too. "Robert, are we going to get off this thing, I think I'm going to be sick again", said Max. Attention people, it looks like you might be up there for a while.

Max and Robert were feeling really desperate. So Max thought and said to Robert "hey why don't we try rocking the box so we can go forward". Robert agreed, and they started rocking the box together.

As the boys tried to rock the box, something happened. As they rocked it they just happen to shake it as well. That's when their phones fell out of their pocket and fell 30 feet down and broke into pieces.

"Max and Robert screamed noooooo"! Max and Robert said "that was our new phones.

1 hour passed and still the Ferris wheel was still stuck.

"We'll never get off this Ferris wheel" Max said. "I rather be in a pit of snakes then wait another minute up here in this Ferris wheel".

Finally the technician came trying to run. Everybody started yelling at the technician to get to work. 30 minutes past and the Ferris wheel started to move again. "All fixed guys" said the technician to the employees.

Finally Max and Robert got to the bottom of the Ferris wheel.

"Ok Max, next time I'm never ever going on any Ferris wheel ever again". Said Robert. "Copy that" said Max.

The boys had a wild day, but it was still fun for them. That day the boys learned that if you're patient you might finally get what you want.
